ACET: A Note from your presenters

- We are happy you are here, and value your time.
- We are not TEA employees or legal counsel. We are fellow practitioners sharing State & Federal Program experience, procedures and best practices.
  - Some issues may require clarification and advice from TEA staff, or legal counsel about your specific circumstances.
- The amount of information to be covered today is vast. Every effort will be made to answer all submitted questions.
  - Some questions will be answered on an individual basis, as answers may vary based on your program design.
- Some slides contain screenshots from TEA presentations to help accurately portray regulations, procedures, etc.
  - We recommend you view the actual TEA documents (links are provided) to ensure you see the full message/guidance from TEA.
